

Hydraulic Cylinder Manufacturing for a Wide Range of Industries.

Aggressive Hydraulics' Design & Engineering Group is one of the most progressive, experienced hydraulic cylinder design and engineering resources available. Because our staff works with applications in markets that vary from aerial devices to waste handling equipment, we have been exposed and heavily involved with hydraulic cylinders that reflect state-of-the-art technology. This experience and involvement is reflected in each and every cylinder we design so that all our customers get the best end product at the best value.
